

Free access to information is what the public wants and needs. Choice, rather than restriction is mandated. A few large corporations control much of radio media. Stop regulating free commerce and encourage maximum competition